NIC #01372-84
29 February 1984

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: David Y. McManis
National Intelligence Officer for Warning

FROM: David D. Gries
National Intelligence Officer for East Asia

SUBJECT: East Asia Warning and Forecast Meeting

During the 23 February 1984 East Asia Warning and Forecast Meeting representatives of the Intelligence Community discussed and made forecasts concerning the following subjects:

I. The Kampuchea Dry Season Offensive: Update

The predicted dry season offensive still has not materialized. In other years they have begun as late as 1 April. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Vietnamese hesitation also may be a result of expanded DK troop activities during the recent rainy season, which are still under way. This is the highest level of DK activity in five years. The ability of DK forces to accomplish the resupply efforts needed for this activity indicates growing support from the local population. [REDACTED]

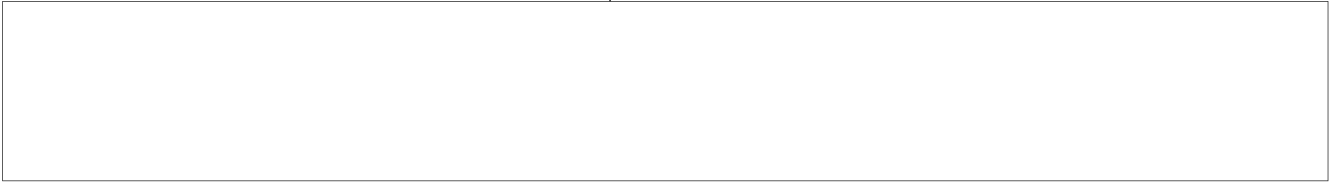

II. Activity in the Sino-Viet Border: Update

Vietnam's response to the fifth anniversary of the 1979 Sino-Viet border war appears greater than that of China. [REDACTED]
